

COIN

Unique ID: SUR-EF936A

Object type certainty: Certain

Workflow status: Awaiting validation

A worn early medieval cut halfpenny of a Late Anglo-Saxon king, Eadgar (959-75), Edward the Martyr (975-8) or Aethelred II (978-1016) of the post-Reform issues (after c.975), uncertain type, mint and moneyer uncertain. Ref: North 1994: 157-67.

The coin is very worn within the field on both obverse and reverse, with virtually nothing of the design remaining, and the inscriptions are only partial given its status as a cut fraction. The lettering on the reverse is worn and difficult to read in its entirety, the moneyer reading only [... ]OL[...]with certainty. It may be GOL[...] , which could suggest the moneyer is Goldric of Stafford (possibly STAEFOR, for which FOR is distinctly visible).
